MEMORANDUM

TO: Harry Freebourn

FROM: Sandra Law

DATE: December 14, 2009

RE: OPD % of representation-District Court Felonies

OPD has been asked to determine the percentage of cases we represent, overall, in our Montana District Courts. As you are aware, OPD has tracked our opened cases on a monthly basis, since inception of the agency. It was a simple step to pull that information per calendar year, to agree with the State of Montana Judicial Branch standard of reporting.

http://courts.mt.gov/dcourt/stats/default.mcpx

State of Montana Judicial Branch District Court statistics can be found at the above internet site. Case Filings and Dispositions have been posted here through calendar year 2007. Comparing these reported District Court case filings alongside OPD new case counts, our representation appeared to be way too low. I called the Supreme Court Administrator's office trying to determine why the numbers did not seem reasonable. Two possibilities were identified as potential problems. First, the District Courts assumed their first year of uniform reporting in CY 2006. By 2007, it is assumed that their reporting was more consistently applied. Second, the District Court statistics report new cases, in addition to the reopening of cases from all other years. OPD does not report in this fashion. OPD does, however, similarly open new cases for revocations...and these are included in our case counts on a month to month basis. To resolve the 'apples' and 'oranges' nature of reporting between the two agencies, it was determined that by comparing only new cases, for each agency, per calendar year, we could provide some parity between the reporting.

The Supreme Court Administrator's office was able to provide OPD with just the new case openings for calendar years 2006, 2007 and 2008. These were compared to just the new cases opened in OPD (i.e., without revocations).

OPD was not engaged fully in 2006, but in 2007 we represented 4,678 of 5,739 new cases (81.5%) and in 2008 we represented 4,913 of 5,416 (90.70%).

OPD has maintained information from it's inception, of all cases opened on a calendar basis. The State of Montana Judicial Branch has published through calendar year 2007 for cases opened on a calendar basis. The only year that we are both reporting (to date) is Calendar Year 2007. In speaking with the Supreme Court Administrator' office regarding their published statistics we were informed that their case statistics for each calendar year include both openings, and reopenings of cases. OPD counts new cases added, and revocations. However, the Administrator's office was able to provide us with just new cases for fiscal years 2006 and 2007. To create a parity betweent the two agencys we compared only the new cases opened for both OPD and the MT Supreme Court calendar years 2007 and 2008.
